The Global Action for Business Integrity project aims to strengthen legal frameworks, promote public-private dialogue and guide companies and SMEs to develop compliance programmes to prevent and counter corruption in the private sector.

The project is active in eight countries: Brazil, Colombia, Egypt, Ethiopia, Malaysia, Saudi Arabia, Ukraine and Uzbekistan. In addition, the project has a global component which plays a critical role in upscaling effective approaches, achieving sustainability and disseminating good practices on business integrity in global policy.

SUCCESS DATA

- Over 5500 participants attended the first six editions of the global webinar series, jointly organized by UNODC and the UN Global Compact.
- 20 integrity experts and academics from Egypt, Libya and Morocco participated in the contextualization of antitrust modules for universities from the MENA region. As a result, more than 2000 university students have been taught the modules in Egypt and Libya.
- 42 workshops were held across Colombia engaging 10% representatives from academia and civil society to assess their challenges to participate in anti-corruption efforts and to develop solutions.
- In Brazil, publications were launched to increase public and private entities’ knowledge on the legal framework and good practices for preventing and countering corruption in the bidding process and on lobbying regulations.
- Over 200 business leaders, business integrity experts, and key stakeholders from the public sector, civil society, academia, international organizations participated in the Private Sector Forum on the margins of the tenth session of the Conference of the States Parties (CoSP) to the United Nations Convention against Corruption (UNCAC).
- 126 participants from government, private sector, civil society, and academia engaged in a dialogue on business integrity in Ethiopia. In a follow-up session, 101 participants provided feedback on an advanced draft policy paper, helping UNODC refine recommendations for the government.
- Three workshops were held across Pakistan, engaging 121 representatives from academia and civil society to assess their challenges to participate in anti-corruption efforts and to develop solutions.
- 20 integrity experts and academics from Egypt, Libya and Morocco participated in the contextualization of antitrust modules for universities from the MENA region. As a result, more than 2000 university students have been taught the modules in Egypt and Libya.
- 42 workshops were held across Colombia engaging 10% representatives from academia and civil society to assess their challenges to participate in anti-corruption efforts and to develop solutions.
- In Brazil, publications were launched to increase public and private entities’ knowledge on the legal framework and good practices for preventing and countering corruption in the bidding process and on lobbying regulations.
- Over 200 business leaders, business integrity experts, and key stakeholders from the public sector, civil society, academia, international organizations participated in the Private Sector Forum on the margins of the tenth session of the Conference of the States Parties (CoSP) to the United Nations Convention against Corruption (UNCAC).

OUTCOME AND IMPACT

- Increased knowledge and awareness by public and private sector stakeholders of the United Nations Convention against Corruption, national legal frameworks and good practices to strengthen business integrity.
- Enhanced communications and dialogue between the public and private sectors on anti-corruption and business integrity.
- Collective Action has been strengthened by including other key stakeholders such as academia, civil society and youth in efforts to strengthen business integrity.
- Governments make significant progress in advancing legislative reforms to prevent and counter corruption.
- The global dialogue on business integrity is enriched with national and sectoral good practices.

LEARN MORE